McGILL FUND RECEIVES TWO BIG DONATIONS

Sir Arthur Speaks at Campaign Headquarters.

PROFESSORIAL AID.

Students' Council Present at Yesterday's Luncheon.

A very notable feature of the campaign luncheon yesterday was the fact that an Undergraduates' table was included for the members of the Students' Council.

A great deal of encouragement has been given to the efforts of the students in their desire to help make the drive a success.

Notable among the subscriptions was a cheque for $15,000 from the heirs of the late Hon. C. C. Colby, through Dr. Colby. The professors show their desire for a better McGill by helping to swell the fund despite their low salaries.

Subscription cards are to be placed in the Union for students who are desirous of making contributions.

It was announced at the luncheon to-day at campaign headquarters that the fund had reached a total of $2,717,481, the subscriptions for to-day being $920,633.

Dean Laird said that nowhere was a refusal met by the canvass of the Macdonald Teachers' Committee, and the subscriptions ranged from $5 to $75, and that there was an eagerness to give.

A cheque from D. G. McMillan, Sci. '84, was accompanied by a letter requesting that his subscription be used especially for dormitories.

Sir Charles Gordon, chairman for the day, expressed the opinion that the ultimate success of the campaign rested with the teams, and was gratified by the spirit in which the canvassers were met by the public. He then called upon Sir Arthur Currie to speak.

Sir Arthur Currie expressed his gratitude to the men and women who were working on the team at outside points and who were doing much to make the drive a success. He felt that no cause was more worthy of their support. They were enabling McGill and Montreal to maintain their position and to exercise a greater influence in the promotion of citizenship and the industrial development of the country.

The greatest loss suffered was perhaps through undeveloped brain power or incomplete development of it.

The universities were curing this waste. The public, by supporting McGill, was assisting and giving opportunities for the production of scientists and scholars as well as men in other activities.

Only those men, said the speaker, who served and helped their fellow-citizens deserved credit, and that the greatest reward which would be given those who assisted McGill would be the realization, in the future, that through their efforts some Newton or one who would add much to the knowledge of mankind had been discovered.

He then dealt briefly with some criticisms of McGill, saying that the defects would be remedied as soon as (Continued on Page 2.)

ALL STARS VS. OTTAWA ON SAT.

Game Promises To Be Fast and Exciting.

The Rugby game between Montreal All-Stars and Ottawa, postponed from last Saturday, will be played at the Stadium on Saturday, at 3 p.m., if weather conditions permit.

The line-up of the Montreal All-Stars will remain the same as announced last week.

The following McGill men are elected to play: Lawrence, Lochead, Dobson, Helmcken, Kemp, Room, Bradshaw and McDougall.

According to reports received concerning the Ottawa team, the game promises to be very fast, and English Rugby enthusiasts are assured of witnessing a game full of thrills and excitement.

ROOTERS AND BAND ON WAR PATH AGAIN

Workout At Union At 5.10 To-Night.

FOR 'VARSITY GAME.

All Men Going To Kingston Must Be Out.

This afternoon at 5.10, right on the old button will see the last Rugby workout of the now famous McGill Rooters' Club for this year. This workout will take place in the sitting room of the Union, first flat up, and will be devoted to preparation for the 'Varsity game on Saturday. Every man who intends making the trip to Kingston Saturday should make it his duty to be out at this workout, as a discussion of the procedure to be followed at the game is going to take place.

Toronto by last reports expects to have 1,000 leather-lugged yell-slingers at the Limestone City Saturday, and McGill at this crucial moment has got to also show up at its best. The team is counting on all the Rooters to stick with them to the last, and anybody who can steal, borrow or in any way locate the odd dozen berries should make the grade to Kingston Saturday. Every man possible is needed to swell the multitude and help bring the bacon to Montreal.

The idea of the meeting this afternoon is to ascertain if possible exactly how many men are going to take the trip so that proper organization can be arranged and keep every McGill man together at the game. Without this organization, McGill supporters might be scattered all over the grounds and a poor brand of yell would be the result.

So, everybody who intends following the team at Saturday's game should make it a point to be at this workout this afternoon, and the football club will then know what kind of support it may expect. Also if a sufficient number of bandmen present themselves at the meeting intending to go, the organization of a band to lead the Rooters would be timely and arranged.

Everyone possible out to the meeting and help along with your suggestions.

It is hoped 1,000 students will be able to go, and in any case those who can't go as far as Kingston will be able to give the team a royal sendoff at the station on departure Saturday morning.

All up and show the team we are with them.

Remember, 5.10 to-night, at the Union, and we're away in a whirlwind of dust.

RUGBY TICKETS.

Tickets for the play-off at Kingston will be on sale at the Union this afternoon between 4 and 6 o'clock for the benefit of graduates intending to journey down to the scene of the game. Tickets for the general public will be sold between the same hours on Friday afternoon. Railway transportation may be obtained at the same time from an agent of the railway company, who will be present at the Union.

DELTA SIGMA SOCIETY HELD KEEN DEBATE

Sophs. Downed Freshies in Guerilla Word-Fight.

CLOSE DECISION.

Both Teams Showed Careful Preparation, But Failed To Come to Grips.

The third meeting of the society, held yesterday afternoon in the R.V.C., was a great success. There was a good attendance in spite of the fact that many of the members were playing on the several basketball teams in the first of the Inter-year matches.

The usual business transacted, the Sophomore and Freshman debating teams entered for their debate, the subject of which was "That Private Schools Are to be Preferred to Public Schools." The First Year upheld the affirmative, the debaters being Miss Carroll Robertson and Miss Mary Bishop; while the opposition was upheld by Miss Dorothy Teed and Miss Joan Foster.

Miss Robertson opened the discussion, pointing out that the question was to be considered from the point of view of benefit to the child. She dwelt upon the high standard of honor and the keen interest in sport of private school training. She also gave the percentage of private school men playing upon the McGill Rugby squads, which certainly showed favorably for the private schools.

Miss Teed, first speaker of the opposition, followed Miss Robertson. She divided the question clearly into two main features, the school and the individual, and the school and the community. For the first of these she spoke, laying emphasis on the fact that many pupils of private schools are apt to specialize before they had time to acquire a solid all-round groundwork. Also, she pointed out that private schools were attended by pupils from influential homes, where everything was smooth and easy, whereas in public schools there was a greater variety and more versatility.

Miss Bishop, second speaker of the affirmative, followed Miss Teed closely in this last statement, pointing out that though in private schools there might not be such variety of classes of pupils, nevertheless there was just as much variety of character. She pointed out, too, the special individual attention given in private schools, which in large public schools is almost impossible; also the sense of individual responsibility making for leadership, and the loyalty which is so strong a trait of private school grads. As all these qualities benefited the individual, so, Miss Bishop pointed out, a better citizen was in after life benefiting the community.

Miss Joan Foster then spoke for the opposition. Following up her colleague's division, she dwelt on the aspect of the school community. Miss Foster's strongest plea was that public school education developed a spirit of democracy. The children of Capital, she said, were sent to private schools, while the children of Labor went to public schools, and so the two were kept separate, and in the private school pupils failed to learn the art of mixing with others.

CONVERSATION

One of the several advantages which should result from a university education is ease and charm in conversation.

Wit will readily be recognized as a decided asset to such ease and charm, but very many are not gifted with keen and ready power of repartee and ability to impart whimsical turns to his language. Wit alone, without balance and wealth of information, is not conversation. The brilliant conversationalist must have order and simplicity of arrangement in his material; must be able to impart his thoughts to others as to make them not only eager to listen to him but able without effort to retain his ideas; must have at least a fairly comprehensive fund of anecdotes instantly available; and must have practice in the free use of language.

It is related of Madame de Montespan, wife of Louis XIV. of France that at a dinner in her rooms one of her servants, leaning over her chair, whispered: "Madame will please tell another story, there is no roast to-day." She was noted, even in that reign of wit and intelligence, for her attractive and sparkling anecdotes and repartee.

We cannot all be brilliant raconteurs, but we may all attain a certain standard as small-group talkers. The best way to obtain facility in informal discourse is to meet other men without restraint and to talk over with them subjects of import which can be made fascinating with little effort and research. Unfortunately the average student exhibits a tendency to avoid serious subjects outside the lecture room. His more or less slangy conversation rarely extends beyond athletics and sport, with an occasional half-ashamed, hesitating excursion into the head-line subjects which appeared in his morning paper. If the undergraduate is asked anything about the great movements of society, labor, government and literature he will first make a feeble bluff at the subject, then pass it up for an excursion to a theatre or to the Union for a game of billiards.

We acknowledge the importance of the various clubs, historical, philosophic, economic and so forth, at McGill, but the meetings of these clubs are unfortunately too apt to take the form of lectures followed by more or less formal discussion. They develop power of self-expression in debate, if you will, but as training for conversation they are of little value.

The pressing need, if McGill students are to become brilliant or even moderately interesting conversationalists is the formation of small, constantly-changing groups, wherein men may broaden and learn to express their views on subjects which they should not now, and will not later, be able to avoid.

It is just for purposes such as this that the Union was built. The time will probably come when we shall see many small groups around the building, engaged in really interesting, intelligent talks, developing their powers of informal intercourse and laying the foundations of social relationships which will be built on genuine interests clearly held in common. But this time will not come, we shall not turn out from McGill men clever in engaging the interests of others, until we can overcome our hereditary antipathy to discussing the things next our hearts with others who have identical problems next theirs, and until we can learn that it is not a weakness to appear serious on occasion.

KINGSTON THE MECCA

Saturday will see a stream of McGill supporters, bursting with eagerness to cheer for the Red and White, thronging the Grand Trunk station to get onto one of the two specials being run for the game. The rush for tickets on the Union yesterday actually exceeded the expectations of the Association, and it is unnecessary to say that both trains will be thronged. Pools have been the order of the day, and many who would otherwise have been unable to go will, by their means, see the big fight which is to decide the title.

Sir Arthur Currie and the team will be on one of these trains, and those few students who cannot get to Kingston for one reason or another, should do their best at least to get to the station to cheer the men on their way. Until the hockey title is fought for, this will be the big game of the session. McGill will be there with the goods, team and rooters. Kingston is the Mecca.

BASKETBALL BRILLIANCY BROUGHT OUT

Several Games Played By R.V.C. Teams.

IN MOLSON HALL.

Sophs. Beat Freshies, Seniors Outplayed Juniors.

Yesterday afternoon Molson Hall shook to the fierce stamping of feet and resounded to war-like cries (in the treble clef!), when the R. V. C. Basketball season opened brilliantly with the first of the inter-class games.

The matches between the secondary teams were the first to be played off. The Partial Students, appearing with their first team against the Secondary Team of the third year, had little difficulty in showing their superiority over their opponents. They overwhelmed them with a score of 24-4. The secondary teams met in deathly grip and, after a thrilling and close struggle the Sophomores emerged victorious with 15 points against the eleven piled up by the Freshmen.

Then followed the really vital games of the day, upon the result of which depend the class trophy and the position of the year on the banner which decorates the walls of the Common Room. The more inexperienced Freshmen suffered sadly at the hands of the more knowing Sophs; the latter excelled in their pass-work, their combination being far ahead of that shown by the Freshmen team. Moreover, Miss Z. Stack and Miss Marjorie Leggett gave a pretty exhibition of shooting, Miss Leggett especially affecting some brilliant field shots which were not infrequently successful. Miss D. Russel and Miss A. Roy continued to keep the ball dangerously near the Freshmen goal, and gave Miss Stack and Miss Leggett every opportunity to score.

The final score was Sophomores 20, Freshies 9.

The following game, between the Seniors and Juniors, was more keenly contested and of much greater interest, especially during the first half. The passing on both sides was excellent, though probably Miss Mary Fry did the most conspicuous work at centre, combining splendidly with Miss J. Henderson. In spite of the excellent work done, the Junior forwards were unable to avoid their guards, who continually seized the ball at the crucial moment and passed back to the other end, where Miss J. Spier never failed to make good. Her shooting was splendid, not only brilliant, but reliable. While Fate seemed to smile upon the Junior team during the first half, their playing, and especially their shooting, fell off later and the Seniors gained ground, with the result that they downed the Juniors by 20-7.

The line-up of the teams was as follows:

Freshmen First Team.
Forwards—P. Murray, E. Petrie.
Centres—E. L. Hertzberg, C. Robertson.
Guards—E. Basker, M. Cameron.
Sophomore First Team.
Forwards—Z. Slack, M. Leggett.

MORE TORONTO PROPAGANDA

Dirty Rumors About "Shag" Infest the Press of "Queen" City.

Toronto newspapers still continue to take the occasional dig at McGill insofar as Rugby is concerned. The latest outburst, which was printed in a publication of the Queen City on Tuesday, had reference to Coach Shaughnessy, of the Red and White squad, and proved absolute news both to executive heads of the McGill Rugby Club and to the students at large.

Discussing Rugby affairs at Queen's, with special reference to the possibility of the Tri-color appointing professional Rugby and hockey coaches, it was stated that the question had been carried to a point at Queen's where eligible for the positions were being considered, and that "The rumored disposal of Shaughnessy at McGill had caused that worthy's name of being included in the list."

"First we have heard of it," was the statement vouchsafed by a prominent member of the Rugby executive when shown the article yesterday by a representative of the "Daily."

STATEMENT RE Y. CAMPAIGN IS ANNOUNCED

Early Returns Are Far From Good.

SUPPORT NEEDED.

Students Owe Hall Great Deal For Services.

Following is a statement of the money received to date for the McGill Y.M.C.A. campaign. No account is given here of the pledges, or of collections reported.

The canvassers are urged to report as soon as possible. All collecting forms, receipt books, etc., should be turned in at the Hall on the completion of the canvass.

The foregoing statement re campaign as so far reported is far from encouraging. The Hall is out for $2,400 to keep up and to increase its present efficiency.

However, with only meagre returns, it cannot be known definitely whether the Y.M.C.A. will succeed or not. Every McGill student owes the Hall a great deal, and all should give it their fullest support.

It is a difficult task to list the many great benefits derived from the Hall. It provides good and cheap lodging for many out-of-town students who would have to lodge at more expensive and perhaps less agreeable abodes if there were no Hall. It is the scene of many a pleasant social evening, all helping to break the monotony of long study.

The Bible Study Class, an organization much respected, has its home within the Hall. These are only a few of the great services the McGill Y.M.C.A. is offering the University students.

Don't forget the Hall!

COMMERCE DEPT. TO HAVE LIBRARY

Room For School of Commerce Will Be Ready By New Years.

Those students of the School of Commerce who attended the Commerce on Tuesday night were greatly pleased to hear from Mr. Sugars, the director-secretary of the Commerce Department, that he had prevailed upon the librarian to set aside a room for their use.

Mr. Sugars described the room, and told of what action was being taken in regard to obtaining books for this library. An appropriation of $3000 has been set aside for their purchase and several have been ordered. Each text will be the best on its subject, and the collection should be of very great value to the future business man.

Mr. Sugars stated that if anyone knew of any suitable books which they thought should be included in the collection, he would be very glad to see that they be put on the shelves. He also said that the use which would be made of this collection would hardly be sufficient to occupy an attendant, and that some student would be appointed to look after the loaning of books at certain periods each day.

The material has already begun to arrive, and it is expected that the room will be available directly after New Year's.

The Commercial Society has long attempted to get equal privileges with the other departments. The granting of a room in the Library is a long step in the right direction.

NOTICES

COLLEGE STUDENTS NIGHT AT TEMPLE EMANUEL.

On Friday evening, Nov. 19th, Temple Emanuel-El, 4128 Sherbrooke West, is arranging a special service for the Jewish students of McGill University. Temple Emanuel-El wishes the young men and women who are preparing themselves for leadership in the days to come, to participate in the benefits of our social and religious life. On Friday evening, Nov. 19th, the students will be the guests of the Temple and after the service a reception will be held in the Lecture Hall of the Temple, at which refreshments will be served and an opportunity given to meet our members. Rabbi M. J. Merritt will speak a special word to College students on that evening, taking as his theme, "The Four Walls." The service will begin at 8.15.

SWIMMERS AND NON-SWIMMERS.
Arrangements have been made whereby the students of the R. V. C. may have the use of the Y.V.C.A. tank for two days a week during the months of November, December, February, March, April and May. Hours for swimming will be arranged for as soon as possible.

It is hoped that there will be an Inter Year Swimming Meet. The meet held last year was a splendid success, but should a meet be held this year it should prove even more of a success, as we have so much more opportunity to practice.

There will be a Beginners' Class for those who do not know how to swim and wish to learn. The list will not be taken down until noon to-day, but anyone who has not signed up by that time will be unable to obtain a student's ticket should they wish to join later in the year. The price of the tickets is $3. Think of it! Two swins a week all term, except in January.

R. V. C. INTERCOLLEGIATE BASKETBALL.

A three day tournament is being negotiated for to take place in Kingston at Queen's University. The question of whether Varsity will enter in this or not is yet to be settled. No league has been formed this year, but plans are being made for one in the future. Exemption from lectures is being granted by the authorities to girls on the college team as arranged in the case of the men.

The two games with Macdonald College are to take place before Christmas.

Many mistakes had been made in the past which would be remedied, remarking that those men only made no mistakes who attempted nothing.

He concluded by saying that he would rather be one of those who helped, than one who discouraged the University in its efforts towards improvement, and urged the teams to put down an overwhelming barrage during the last few days and win a full and complete victory.

Correspondence

The "Daily" is not responsible for the sentiments of letters published in the correspondence columns. Signed communications from graduates, undergraduates and members of the faculties will be placed in print if they are not of too great length.

Correspondents are requested to observe the unwritten law of the newspaper office — that they write upon ONE side of the paper ONLY. No communications will be admitted in this column without the name of the writer being attached, not necessarily for PUBLICATION.

To the Editor, "McGill Daily."

Sir,—
I would like to hear from either some student or from a member of the University Staff whether there are many other students in McGill who possess such spirit for their University as that exhibited by the First Year Medicine Students.

Let me relate the incident. This Faculty held a class meeting at 3 p.m. in the lecture room of the Chemistry Building. The main topic of discussion was concerning the dinner to be given to the Med. Sophs. The president appealed to the students to pay the required fee, as a large majority of members had not done so.

A member of the Faculty stood up and made the suggestion that instead of giving the Sophs a feed, to take the money thus collected for that purpose, which would amount to over $1000.00, and present it to the University. He also stated that the Sophs would be willing to sacrifice their gratis dinner, if they were given to understand to what a glorious purpose the money for their dinner was put. Would you believe me, they simply hooted that speaker down, and some members threatened to throw him out for offering such a suggestion.

The sentiment expressed after the meeting bears to my writing this letter. The fellow-students on their way out of the lecture room expressed their ideas to others that they would not think of paying $1000 as a fee, which should go to the University instead of a dinner.

Therefore, I would like to hear through this column whether this is the spirit which prevails in the University.

ANOTHER STUDENT.

To the Editor, "McGill Daily."

Sir,—
I should like to make a further suggestion along the lines of your editorial in yesterday's "Daily" on "Our Part." I would like to suggest that not only should the various years be canvassed at once but that the Undergrad body as a whole should not draw its caution money at the end of the year, but should add this to the result of the campaign for our Alma Mater.

By doing this we would not be out of pocket now, since the money is paid, and I would suggest further that each faculty's money be used for improvements around itself.

I trust that a scheme such as this may meet with the agreement of the student body, for it is surely up to us to help our Alma Mater Car as much and even more, in proportion than those who are not her children.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your space.

I remain, yours sincerely,
L. DECEILLES.

POLO PLAYERS WIN AGAINST THE NATIONAL

McGill Victors in a One-Sided Game.

FINAL SCORE 11-0.

Intermediates Have Now Lost Two Games and Won Two.

Last night the McGill Intermediate Water Polo team played its fourth game of the season at the National Club, and easily defeated them by a score of 11-0. Since their last game, the Intermediates have certainly made great strides in the matter of improvement, and with the coaching of Mr. Vernet should show a great deal more before the season comes to a close. Their combination gave them a very great advantage over their opponents, who, seemingly, had none whatever. In the shooting department, McGill were also superior by a large margin. Their shots seldom went wild, while those of the National players seemed to have a fondness for every place except the goal.

As the score indicates, McGill were on the offensive nearly all the game, the play only on rare occasions being confined to a very short period of time to their end of the tank. There was hardly a moment during the whole game when the McGill goal was in danger.

The game began at about twenty minutes to nine before a very small number of spectators. The ball was thrown in, and after about two minutes of play, Bruker grabbed the ball and scored. Soon after, Wade sent the ball inside the goal, but it was not counted, as he had his feet on the bottom of the tank. Nearly directly after this the whistle blew, and the first quarter ended with the score 1-0 in favor of McGill.

The second quarter was an absolute runaway for the college team. About one minute after the play had started, Bastable scored the second goal of the game. Right after this, Bruker scored his second goal, and was followed by Winter, who scored two in rapid succession. Bruker then carried the ball down and scored the final goal of the first half. Directly after this, the whistle blew for half-time, the score being 6-0 in favor of McGill.

The second half opened with McGill easing up a little, and for the first couple of minutes she did not score a goal. However, Wade soon opened up an offensive, and scored two goals. After a little more passing, Bruker procured the ball and netted a goal, leaving the score 9-0 in favor of McGill at the end of the third quarter.

The first score of the last quarter was made by Bastable, who soon repeated his feat and added still another one to the already high score. Shortly after this the whistle blew and stopped further scoring. McGill on the match by eleven goals to nil. The score of this game would have been less had the National goalkeeper been in better form. As it was, nearly everything slipped by him. Tromblay, as, perhaps, the best player for the National, while all the McGill team played well, Bruker scoring four goals, Bastable three, and Wade and Winter two each.

The teams were as follows:
National — Lachapelle, Corbell, Dubois, Tromblay, Haynes, Monty.
McGill — McKindsey, Bastable, Owens, Bruker, Winter, Wade.

DENTALS WIN INDOOR BALL

The Montreal High School Gymnasium was the scene of a very interesting and noisy game of Indoor Baseball between the Dental Clinic and Medicine IV. Enthusiasm waxed high all the way. The issue was undecided till the sixth inning, when Dentals forged ahead and won by the score of 11 to 8.

The game was featured by several things, chief among which was heavy hitting and many glaring errors. The latter proved to be the downfall of the Medicine men when in the last half of the sixth inning their infield blew all to little bits and the Dentals scored 3 runs, winning the game.

There was little to choose between the opposing batteries, Veith and Harris for the winners and Bussiere and Usher for the defeated. Veith and Bussiere were also the best batters on their respective sides, each knocking a three-bagger at a critical stage. Goldman, of Meds, starred with the stick also, getting a 2 base hit with the bases full. Another star of the game was Weiner, at first base.

ONE THIRD OF TICKETS SOLD FOR BIG GAME

To Students Who Intend To Go.

GRADS. TO-DAY.

No Trouble To Fill Two Special Trains Saturday.

One third of McGill's allotment of reserved seats for the play-off at Kingston on Saturday were sold in two hours yesterday afternoon to students of the University, and indicates clearly the keen support that the Red and White squad will receive when it faces Laddie Cassell's Blue and White team for the championship of the 1920 Intercollegiate series. This afternoon, between four and six o'clock, the pasteboards will be on sale for the graduates, while at the same time on Friday the general public take its turn at the wicket. Railway tickets were also going fast at the Union yesterday afternoon, and from present indications it appears that there will be easily two specials carrying capacity loads of McGill supporters to the Limestone City on Saturday.

Reports from Kingston are to the effect that the campus is at present covered with snow, but that this will be removed prior to the struggle. The condition of the field is not causing McGill enthusiasts a great deal of worry, for it is felt that the team will have an equal chance with Varsity no matter what shape the ground is in on the day of the battle. Close followers of the game still persist in the contention that the game will be one of the most closely contested seen in the Intercollegiate for many seasons. With the addition of Hobbs and Westman to the Blue and White squad, both of whom have been out of the game for several weeks suffering from injuries, it is felt that Varsity will be stronger than when the team played here more than a week ago, and that when the two old rivals match their strength and cunning against one another on Saturday there will be little to pick between them, and that the victory will go to the team that has the most luck in the breaks.

Despite adverse weather conditions Coach Shaughnessy is keeping the senior fourteen plugging away at signals and generally rounding them up into the best physical condition for the historic tussle. Yesterday afternoon the squad was out on the Stadium, which was covered with a sheet of snow and ice, and for an hour and a half put the Red and White through their paces. A light scrimmage was held with the third team at which both squads showed plenty of life, although the nature of the ground prevented them putting much into their play. With another work-out this afternoon against the Juniors the team will complete its heavy work for the play-off and tomorrow afternoon will finish its training with a signal practice. Led by Coach Shaughnessy the men will travel down to Kingston on the first special on Saturday morning.

Every regular on the team is fit and ready for the fray and while no general expression is forthcoming from Shag or the players, a general feeling of satisfaction seems to pervade the Red and White camp regarding the outcome. No definite announcement of the McGill line-up will be made until after Friday's work-out, but it is certain that the same team that defeated Varsity ten days ago will represent the Red and White again on Saturday in the championship tilt. Referees for the game will be appointed to-day according to present plans.

A feature of the trip will be the support that the squad will receive from the rooters. This afternoon the club with the band will marshal all members who intend making the trip, that a big practice might be held, and it is assured that when the specials leave Bonaventure station on Saturday morning it will be with the cheers of the hundreds of those McGill supporters who cannot go ringing in their ears, for "Teedies" Thompson has plans for a great demonstration at the station at that time.

Compulsion more than reality makes men happy or wicked.

MCGILL A. A. ON PHYSICAL EXAMINATION

Decided Last Night To Enforce Rule.

STRICT OBSERVANCE.

Indoor Baseball Popular—Hoped Team Will Enter City League.

A meeting of the Athletic Association was held in the Union last evening, chiefly for the purpose of discussing the very important rule in regard to Physical Examination.

A committee was appointed to draft a motion to be brought up at the meeting next week, whereby drastic action will be taken against any future offender.

Dr. Lamb was present at the meeting, and explained the necessity for enforcing this rule, on account of several cases, which proved to be serious, where men took part in violent exercise when they were medically unfit. Dr. Lamb explained further that the chief offenders in this regard were the men who played on inter-faculty and inter-class teams. Such men were not in training, and some not in good physical condition.

The Athletic Association decided to enforce the rule strictly to the letter in the future.

Further business was transacted, the most important of which was the recognition by the Athletic Association of the McGill Indoor Baseball Club.

Indoor Baseball is becoming very popular during the winter in Montreal, and this branch of athletics allows a great many to get exercise during the winter.

A majority of the classes have already entered a team in an inter-class league, and it is hoped that McGill will be represented in the City League again this year.

GREAT TRIAL IS TO BE TO-NIGHT

Big Event Will Be Staged At 8 p.m.

Mrs. Smith who has been lingering for about two months in the McGill Penitentiary will be brought up for trial before The Hon. Mr. Justice Greenfield to-night at 8 p.m. in the McGill Court House, situated in the Law Building.

She has been committed by the local magistrate, Jerry Anglin, to stand her trial and to-night is her eventful evening. The jury will be empanelled first, and the case proceeded with immediately. If found innocent she will be set free and in the contrary case, she will be placed in the death cell—(the lecture room in the Law Building), and soon after handed over to the Anatomy department of the Medical Faculty for punishment.

Some pity is being shown for her young child but the law will, notwithstanding this said fact, take its course, and no leniency whatever will be shown for the purpose of setting a precedent for the members of the R.V.C. who may be planning to do what Mrs. Smith has done—that is—poison her husband.

Dick Catz, the well-known barrister will prosecute, as representative of the Attorney-General, and will be assisted by some one famous in the law courts.

The prisoner has been very fortunate to obtain the services of Mr. M. Moscovitch, the eminent lawyer who is being assisted by the great French Criminalist, Mr. Lebeau.

Great interest is being shown and in all probabilities the court room will be crowded. The prisoner is well known, and is one of the prettiest women in this district. It is hoped that the jurymen will not be influenced by her features and that her appearance should not be a means of defeating justice. Pretty or ugly—the murderer must be hung—as a warning to those who may want to act similarly, when some Douglas Fairbanks appears on the scene.

Considerable expense has been incurred by the crown in bringing here Dr. Taylor, internationally known as an authority on poisons. His evidence is being looked forward to with much enthusiasm.

SHERBROOKE RECORD FOR UNION FILES

E. T. Club Has Subscribed to Home Paper.

EXECUTIVE MEETING.

Decided to Hold Club Dinner On the 8th of December.

Tickets for the Eastern Townships Club dinner will be issued in the course of a week or so. This dinner, it was decided at an executive meeting held in the Union last night, will be held on the 8th of December. Many of the club's patrons intend to be present.

The dinner will be held in the Cafeteria, but further arrangements, except that it is to consist of seven courses, remain to be made.

Invitations are being issued to all other sectional clubs at the University, asking each of them to appoint a representative to attend this dinner. Each of these guests will be asked to give a short address, not to exceed five minutes, explaining the purposes and aims of his own club. The executive hopes by this means to help dispel any charges of narrowness which may be brought against sectional clubs in general and the E. T. Club in particular.

The employment bureau of the club will probably be in operation within five or six weeks. Preliminary arrangements are now being made to establish connection with the leading industrial organizations which are likely to be interested in the club to induce them to employ E. T. students next summer as much as possible.

The Sherbrooke Record has been subscribed to by the club and may be seen every day on the files of the Union. The Union House Committee have kindly consented to provide "parking space" for it there, and it is to be hoped the members of the club will make use of it. Efforts are also being made to have the Record introduced in the Arts reading room. The St. Johns News is already there.

Items are being handed in for the column in the E. T. papers. The column has been running five weeks now, and has not yet lacked news. If any E. T. undergrads have items they think will be of interest in these columns they are especially requested to leave them at the Union, addressed to the president of the club.

Details of the dinner, price of tickets to members, programme, possible menu, and any new developments in the club's plans will be published in the "Daily" before the 8th.

Campaign News

The committee for the Undergraduate Fund is highly delighted with the appeal for the Centennial Endowment. The ready response is quite beyond what we might have looked for.

All true sons of Old McGill are looking for their official cards and are signing up very readily.

The proportion of $5.00 for five years is finding much favor and it is now confidently expected that our Fund will reach proportions far in excess of expectations.

This response is only what is due from our splendid undergraduate body. We are out to help McGill for McGill is busy helping us.

The shortage of official Collection Cards is the only retarding factor at the moment. But the committee is promised an abundant supply in a very short while.

A supply will be kept at the Hall Porter's in the Union, no matter how few are available, so drop in and ask for one, sign it and give it to your class president.

Among the early subscriptions is one for $125.00.

The first twenty men approached by one member of the committee almost to a man agreed to sign cards for $25.00.

The chaps are all out for this campaign, and this is McGill's opportunity to make good in the eyes of our graduates and friends.

A visit to our Campaign Headquarters in St. Lawrence Hall, reveals a scene of feverish and high-tension activity on the part of the devoted friends of Old McGill. These business men who are giving their services for one solid week to help this fine old university from sliding back.

They won't fail, they can't fail, but our 2000 odd undergraduates can help in a solid substantial manner. That is by signing our official cards quickly and generously.

MCGILL JUNIORS.

Members of the Junior rugby squad are requested to turn out for practice at the Stadium this afternoon as the team will give the seniors their final work-out before the big game against Varsity. The third squad will play the Grand Trunk fourteen on Saturday for the Junior championship of the Q.R.F.U. While definite arrangements for the location of the game have not yet been completed it is expected that the match will be staged on the National grounds.

GREAT NUMBER TURN OUT FOR BASKETBALL

Very Large Practice Held
Last Night.

PRACTICE MONDAY.

City League Begins On Dec.
8th—College Team Will Invade States.

The second Basketball practice of the season was held last night in Molson's Hall from 7 to 8.15. The practice was a general one, aspirants for all teams being present. By seven o'clock the floor was crowded, and before long one of the greatest basketball practices ever seen at Old McGill was in progress. The enthusiasts were there by the legion, and only a rough estimate of their number was taken. President Cecil Hay, of the Basketball Club, claims that he counted as many as sixty players, and then had to stop on account of lack of breath.

Both Coach Van Wagner and Coach Art Walsh were there, and soon work was commenced.

Two circles were set in motion for shooting practice, and a good half hour was spent in this very important branch of the game. Many freshmen were on hand, especially those who have been figuring in inter-class basketball. Many of the old regulars were back on the job, though some of them are still playing Rugby. However, it is hoped that these will turn out immediately after the Rugby season is over.

After the ball had been passed around for a short time, Art Walsh blew the whistle and set two teams in action. The men in the various positions were constantly replaced, as many as five changes being made. Absolutely every man present played, and no one can say he did not have a chance.

On the average, the playing was hard, fast and clean, and very good form was shown. The shooting was probably a bit ragged, but this will undoubtedly be remedied with time. The last game played was the fastest and most interesting, the opposing sides being composed chiefly of old timers.

At 8.15 the practice was called to a close, and everybody agreed that it was certainly a very successful turnout.

The next practice will be on Monday night in the High School Gymnasium, from six to seven. This will also be a general practice, and everybody is requested to turn out. Starting Monday, the coaches will start to pick the various teams, and anyone who has any hopes for any team will have to turn out and work like the proverbial nigger. Don't forget that there is lots and lots of competition.

There are two other important reasons that everybody should be on hand. The first of these is the fact that the City League starts on Dec. 8th, which is less than three weeks off. McGill is entering four teams in the League this year, namely, a Senior Team, two Intermediate Teams and a Junior Team. The second important reason is that there are only eight more practices before the College Team crosses the International Boundary in search of gore. This will be a very important event in the history of College basketball, for it will be the first time since the commencement of the war that a College Basketball Team from McGill has invaded the territory of our southern neighbors. Several trips were made prior to 1914, but the trip which is being planned for this Christmas will be one of the greatest adventures yet entered upon by a McGill basketball team. Therefore, it is essential that the best possible use be made of the few remaining practices, so that the team will be in fine condition when it battles with the fast American teams.

REMEMBER!
EVERY Body Out!
MONDAY, 6 to 7.
HIGH SCHOOL GYM.

In the short rebuttal, Miss Robertson attempted to sun up the planks of her own and the opponents' platforms, dealing in a very clear, definite manner with each.

Although both teams did admirably well, and showed careful preparation, they did not, as the judges expressed it, come to very close grips at any time. Miss Joan Foster deserves special mention. She spoke briefly, clearly and to the point.

Before the decision was given, Prof. Matthews, one of the judges, gave some kindly and helpful criticism, and finally, after holding the audience in rather breathless surprise announced that the opposition had carried the day.

MEDICAL VIEWS ON VIVISECTION

Many Doctors In Accord
With Anti-Vivisection
Campaign.

That the vivisection of animals inevitably results in the vivisection of human beings is the charge made by Arthur Middleton, organizing secretary of the Manchester branch of the British Union for the Abolition of Vivisection, during the course of a conversation with a representative of The Christian Science Monitor.

The interviewer asked him what opinion his experience had helped him to come to with regard to the attitude of the general medical practitioners toward vivisection. "From the talks I have had with medical men in various towns, and from information I have been able to gather from others who have had similar talks, I am persuaded that large numbers of medical men are in sympathy with our campaign for the abolition of vivisection," said Mr. Middleton. "In many cases, however, they are afraid to say so, because of the pressure which would undoubtedly be brought to bear by the British Medical Association. Only the other day a well-known Manchester man, whose profession brings him into contact with many of the leading medical and other professional men of the city, told me that sympathy for our cause was not altogether lacking in these circles, but that owing either to the conservatism or the fear of their colleagues' opinion, they preferred to keep their views in the background."

"But the time is rapidly approaching when these men will be forced, in the interests of their own profession, to take their stand by our side in the war against vivisection, for evidence accumulates that not only has vivisection not benefited humanity, but that the diseases which have been made the object of vivisection research have increased in number and fatality, a fact which can be proved by anyone who will take the trouble to examine the Registrar General's reports."

"Then, again, the new move, led by Besredka, to discredit all the wonderful claims that have, at one time or another, been made for inoculation, is surely going to make conscientious medical men look upon us as friends and not as enemies of their profession. Besredka discovered that rabbits inoculated with typhoid bacilli die—not a very wonderful discovery, of course, since vivisectioners are always recording the death of their victims after inoculations. He also found that rabbits did not die if fed on typhoid germs, from which he argued that the correct and safe method of protecting the human body from disease was by administering germs through the mouth, and not through the skin."

"The medical correspondent of The Times has been loudly sounding the praises of this new method and hails it as the new vaccination of the future. Not a word is said, of course, of all the failures and the damage caused by the old method of vaccination and inoculation. The fact is," continued Mr. Middleton, "Besredka has offered the inoculationists a way out of their accumulating difficulties, and naturally they will be glad to take it, and I venture to say that before long under-the-skin injections will follow a lot of other medical superstitions to oblivion."

"While we are always ready to seize upon every proof of the impracticability of vivisection, we never for a moment cease to insist that vivisection must be abolished because it is immoral. For this insistence we are dubbed by our opponents as sentimentalists who would allow sentiment to limit the accumulation of knowledge."

"Now the fact is," continued Mr. Middleton, "that our opponents themselves are guilty of this very sentimental interference which they deprecate, for when they are charged with experimenting upon hospital patients they go to a good deal of trouble to deny the charge, and to protest that the medical man would do such a thing. These people are best answered by the late Lord Coleridge, Lord Chief Justice of England, who wrote, 'As to man himself, it was not so long ago that medical men met with a passion of disavowal, what they regarded as an imputation, namely, the suggestion that experiments were ever tried on hospital patients. I assume the disavowal to be true; but why, if all pursuit of knowledge is lawful, should the imputation be resented? The moment you come to distinguish between animals and man, you consent to limit the pursuit of knowledge by considerations not scientific but moral; and it is bad logic and a mere petitio principii to assume (which is the very point at issue) that these considerations avail for man but not for animals. I hope that morals may always be too much for logic; it is permissible to express a fear that logic may some day be too much for morals.'"

"Vivisectioners and pro-vivisectioners may protest as they like," went on Mr. Middleton, "but the fact remains that human experimentation inevitably follows the vivisection of animals, for did not Professor Starling declare before the Royal Commission on Vivisection that 'the last experi-

MEDS TO DO FULL SHARE IN CAMPAIGN

Student Subscriptions Promising in Medicine.

GOOD SPIRIT.

Installment Plan Over Five Years a Popular One.

The campaign for subscriptions to the $5,000,000 McGill Drive will start in earnest among the Meds this morning. Cards will be distributed and everybody is entitled to one. See that nobody else gets yours! If the distributors should happen by mistake to pass you one, or they may be obtained by application at the Union.

Before going farther, it might be well to explain just what the purpose of this drive among the students is, and how it is to be effected. The card reads, either "in cash" or in "installments," and the installment plan will no doubt be the favorite. It is felt by those in charge of the campaign that by distributing the student subscription over, say, a period of five years, the contribution will be less burdensome to the individual, as well as more remunerative to the College.

Owing to this easy plan of subscription, and the fact that the first installment need not be paid until January 1st, 1921, a great demand for cards among the Meds is expected. Fully eighty per cent. of the Meds are signifying their intention of seeing that Old Med. shall not be behind in doing her share, and showing her appreciation of all McGill has done for Medicine.

One thing must be remembered in your consideration of this matter. To a very small degree will this subscription be entirely a student affair. Within five years' time most of the present students will be out with their degrees, and earning money for themselves, and will be far more capable of doing their share for Old McGill. There will not be another campaign before that time, certainly, and this is your one chance to show what Medicine can do for their Alma Mater. So this is in reality an appeal to future graduates in its effect.

It was thought at first that owing to the apparent scarcity of the elusive coin, that subscription to the Centennial Fund would be a physical impossibility. But the enthusiasm shown and the ready response to the appeal indicates that where there's a will a bit of old capital can be collected for a worthy cause. It is not the intention to burden anyone, and many feel that by reason of the easy payments that they will be able to contribute more freely. Besides it is a great thing to show the outside public, who are working so hard to make this drive a record one, that they too have real interest in McGill's attainments.

No matter how small the amounts subscribed, they will be welcome. Remember the first Victory Loan. Billions were subscribed in small amounts, and most of them on the installment plan. Establish a precedent that will be hard to copy, and everyone do their share in Medicine.

In sports, Meds are always to the fore when the real crisis appears, and have ever shown themselves behind every movement that was worth while. So get behind this, too, and make it a buster!

Good OLD MEDS!

ment must always be on the man, and for the simple reason that no matter what results have been gained in the vivisectional chamber, their effects on man are not known until tried. Hence the need for human material for the final experiment. The vivisection of criminals has been openly advocated. Dr. Preston King of Bath, for instance, wrote to the Lancet of September 30, 1905, a letter which not only revealed the depths to which some members of the medical profession were prepared to sink, but which unconsciously, but completely, admitted the failure of animal experimentation, for said he, 'Think for a moment what this would mean. At present we are wandering in the dark, seeking vainly for the light that these experiments alone could give.'"

LECTURES FOR JUVENILES AT MCGILL SOON

Extension Course During the Holidays.

200 ADMITTED.

In Physics Building on Noise,
Fire, Light, Sparks,
Radium.

During the Christmas holidays five lectures of that kind will be given to children between the ages of 10 and 15 in the Macdonald Physics Building at 4 to 5 p.m. The lectures will be on "Noise," "Fire," "Light," "Sparks," "Radium," by Professors Eve, Shaw, Reilly, King and Gray, respectively. The object is to amuse, to interest, and to instruct, so that more young students may be forthcoming in the future years, to fill the gaps caused by the war in the ranks of those well trained in Mathematics and Physics, capable of doing research and pioneer work in Science to develop the possibilities of Canada, with out reliance on others.

The dates of the lectures will be December 23, 27, 29, 31 and January 3rd.

Only 200 tickets will be sold, no seats will be reserved, juveniles (10-15 years) only will be admitted, price $1.25 for the whole five lectures, transferable.

Applications in writing with cheque enclosed must be sent on or after Dec. 1st to the Director, Macdonald Physics Building, McGill University.

The object of these Juvenile Lectures is indicated above. The Universities of Canada must provide a large number of highly trained Engineers and Physicists during the next ten years. In order to do so they must look to the Schools of Canada for students who are enthusiasts, who are exceptionally well trained in Mathematics, who by eighteen years should have a sound knowledge of Arithmetic, Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, Mechanics, Analytical Geometry, and a fair knowledge of Differential Calculus.

This may seem a large demand, but such training is given in England, France and Germany, and Canadian boys have sufficient grit and ability for similar work. It is certainly a difficult task for Schoolmasters who are already carrying a heavy load, and doing their best to develop character and sound learning.

A word must be added as to Manufacturers and the large Directors of Industries, Factories, Transport and Power.

So long as it pays better to sell an inferior article to devising or improving something of a superior character, so long will many of the youths of the country be induced to prefer an inferior education, which may secure larger material rewards. Hence combined work of the Schools, Universities and Industrial Leaders is essential to raise Canada to a status where the greatest results may be obtained from vast potentialities.

Begin with the boys.

MEDS. ATTENTION.

The cards for the McGill Undergraduate Campaign failed to turn up last night. All class Presidents are asked to meet at the Porter's desk at the Union this noon to get their supply.

For many years have furnished haberdashery to McGill men—hundreds of them. There's a reason for this patronage—in fact there are several reasons.

In the first place we carry the sort of men's furnishings that college men like at as low prices as you'll find anywhere. We're right near the University and you are sure here of prompt, courteous attention.

If you are going to Kingston to see the Red and White win the championship, you'll need some new haberdashery. If you stay here you'll need some for the celebration. In any event you win a bet by coming to REID'S.

WESTERN CLUB PLANS SUPPER

Great Event Takes Place
Nov. 24th.

At a meeting of the executive of the Western Club held last night, arrangements were completed for the supper to be held next Wednesday evening at 6.30 o'clock. The tea room of the Union has been secured and accommodation guaranteed for at least sixty members. In order to be sure of securing a seat, members are asked to notify one of the executive at least twenty-four hours before the meeting. The tickets will cost seventy-five cents each, and will be procurable on the evening of the supper. In case members are unable to get in touch with the executive, lists have been put in the Union and Stratheona Hall, and will be left until the evening of November 23. The various provincial representatives are:

British Columbia—J. H. Helmcken, 297 Prince Arthur Ave. Phone, Uptown 2129.

Alberta—F. H. Fish, Wesleyan College, Phone, Uptown 290.

Saskatchewan—S. K. Clark, 31 St. Pamilo Street. Phone, East 8099.

Manitoba—K. M. Winslow, 297 Prince Arthur Ave. Phone, Uptown 2129.

In order to facilitate the work of the executive, those wishing to attend are asked to notify one of the above men as soon as possible.

INDUCTION OF NEW MINISTER TO-MORROW

Distinguished clergymen from the United States and in Montreal will take part in the induction of the Rev. Sydney B. Snow, of the Church of the Messiah, Sherbrooke W., and Simpson Streets, on Thursday evening, November 18th, at 8.15 o'clock. The sermon will be preached by Dean William Wallace Fenn, of Harvard Divinity School, one of the best known preachers in the United States; the prayer will be by the Rev. John Howland Lathrop of the Church of the Saviour, Brooklyn, N.Y. A greeting to the minister will be given by Dr. Herbert Symonds, Vicar of Christ Church Cathedral, Montreal; and the Rev. Fred. Robertson Griffin, for eight years minister of the Church of the Messiah, now minister of the First Unitarian Church, Philadelphia, Penn., will address the congregation. In the act of induction Mr. Murray Williams, president of the Church of the Messiah, will represent the congregation. The public is cordially welcome to this service.

After the service there will be a reception in Channing Hall to Mr. and Mrs. Snow and the visiting ministers.

Wesleyan Notes

One event after another goes to make up the cheery atmosphere which exists at Wesleyan. A Checker Tournament is now in progress, and the first draft has been enthusiastically contested. Who the winner will be is as yet a matter of conjecture, but W. B. Barnes seems to be the thoughtful wizard and player's foe.

The canvass of the students in the building for the McGill Y.M.C.A. proved a noted success. Tom Currant was assigned the task, and he has already collected over one hundred and twenty dollars. Tom is a hustler, and has contributed greatly to the splendid life of the college.

This year sees the starting of a Wesleyan College Magazine, the first issue of which is hoped to be published early in December. The editor-in-chief is H. Bunt, B.A., with an editorial staff consisting of Prof. W. C. Graham, representing the Faculty, while L. O. Bunt and H. M. Fife serve the interests of the undergraduate body.

Nine games have already been played in the Basketball series, while there are fifteen games remaining to be played. A special feature of Wesleyan this year is devoted loyalty to the devotional exercises in the evenings. Here there is no distraction, for Theologian and non-Theologian students gather for the religious parts of the day's work.

A fruit feed under the auspices of the Probationers' Society was held at 10 o'clock the other evening. A very enjoyable time was spent and much humor and wit displayed.

YOUVILLE VISITED BY ELECTRICIANS

Prof. Christie Pointed Out
Many Things of Interest.

On Tuesday afternoon about fifty members of the Electric Club visited the Montreal Tramways shops at Youville. The group met at 2.15 p.m. at the corner of University and St. Catherine streets and proceeded to Youville in a special car.

Professor Christie was present and pointed out many interesting facts during the visit. Mr. Wallace also helped to answer many of the questions which arose.

The whole works of the Tramways Co. was laid open to the students, and everything in connection with repairing and operating tramways was seen to good advantage.

Many thanks are due to Dr. Herdt for arranging the trip, also to Prof. Christie and Mr. Lucas, of the Montreal Tramways Co., who conducted the party through the works.

It is hoped that more visits of this nature will be held from time to time, as they are certainly a great help to Electricians in their course.

The general and increased use of electrical drive by manufacturing industries of all kinds is the best evidence of its superiority and economy of use above any other source of drive. Manufacturers located in towns wherein "Shawinigan Power" is available are assured of a steady and dependable supply of electric power and at reasonable rates.
